HARVEY WILSON'S WILL SET ASIDE

Trial Comes to Very Sudden Ending.

AN AGREEMENT IS REACHED

Hearing Was Very Formal In Nature.

Estate It Is Understood Will Be Divided Along The Lines Expressed by The Deceased After Conditions Had Changed.

Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock, the jury in the common pleas court returned a verdict invalidating the will of the late Harvey Wilson. The trial of the case was wholly formal in order to comply with the laws. The hearing begun shortly before two o'clock and the jury took about thirty minutes for deliberation.

The exact terms of the agreement which has been made between the interested members of the family, including the guardians for the minors interested, was not made public but it is understood they were strictly along the lines expressed by the deceased, after he had made his will and after circumstances had materially changed. There was no dissension among the heirs and guardians of the minors, therefore the necessity for a contest was avoided.

It will be remembered that Harvey Wilson died while on a visit to California. His will was made some time previous to his death and after making the will he had expressed himself as desiring to make some very radical changes in the disposition of his property. The changes were not made before his sudden death and the will as made was the one which was probated. The will disposed of the property to Mrs. Wilson, the widow, Wilson R. Dumble and the two sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hane.

The trial of the case was expected to consume a great deal of time and present one of the hardest fought legal battles fought in Marion county in years. One week of the time of the court was set apart for the trial and Judge William P. Henderson, of Keaton, was secured to sit in the case. The agreement brought the case to a sudden ending and removed the necessity for more than a formal trial.

Tuesday, Judge W. P. Henderson, dismissed the divorce case of Nora E. Ward against William J. Ward.

CHIEF TO FILE
AN AFFIDAVIT

Will Charge Beavers With Keeping Place.

MAYOR IS REFORM BENT

Would Stop Boys From Playing Pool.

Moving Picture Shows are Also Banned For Leading Boys Astray—Chief Klinefelter Goes Hunting But Doesn't Announce His Score.

As a result of a search made by Chief Klinefelter and Officer Cusick an affidavit is to be filed against Harry Beavers, of north Main street, charging him with keeping a place where intoxicating liquors are kept for sale.

The officers invaded Beavers' home near the Pennsylvania crossing on north Main street, found a large supply of liquor of all kinds on hand and dozens of corks and empty bottles. Several men were in the house at the time and the officers have evidence which they claim will substantiate their allegations that the place is one of public resort.

As evidence against Beavers the police have some whisky which they took when the search was made.

Dr. Seiter is again up in arms against the moving picture shows and pool rooms. The mayor has questioned all of the young fellows brought into his court recently and finds that most of them play pool and go to moving picture shows. He, therefore, draws the conclusion that these two are the direct causes of the wrongful acts of the boys and thinks that they should be suppressed.

The mayor has directed the police to see that no boys under 18 years of age are allowed to frequent pool rooms and that the moving pictures displayed here are of the soft pedal variety.

Chief Klinefelter was among the many who made a trip afield yesterday in search of game. The chief had some excellent opportunities for shooting practice and while no record was kept of his score for the day it is generally believed that he did pretty well. His only reply to those who want to know what he bagged is, "Well, we will have rabbit for dinner at Klinefelter's today."

Officer Cusick was in charge at headquarters in the absence of the chief.
